For every human being, being beautiful or handsome is a major desire. With this in mind, every effort to achieve this is welcome. One of the desirable beauty features is having a baby-smooth, healthy skin. One thing that dermatologists warn people seeking skin products is to avoid beauty products containing mercury and other heavy metals. The reason for this warning is that these elements often are highly poisonous and are not easily eradicated by the body.

Many people nowadays are seeking natural-based skin care products which are both safe and affordable. While many skin care manufacturers claim to be able to deliver this very few can actually assure desired results. Dermalogica UK is one of the few companies that guarantee using healthy, harmless, natural ingredients in their products. This company has been in the forefront in developing skin targeted beauty products for many years.

The range of products manufactured by this company is wide ranging from cleansers, moisturisers and exfoliants, through to eye treatments and shave products. These products span the breadth of the all dermatological requirements that are needed by individuals who want beautiful, healthy skin.

One of Dermalogica's most popular products is Dermalogica Skin Smoothing Cream. This cream comes in variety of sizes. This cream makes the skin smoother and also elastic and fine, hence, ridding wrinkles. The active ingredient that enhances skin smoothness is silk amino acids.

The cream also contains antioxidants which have been proven to alleviate and reverse the of skin aging process, bearing in mind that the real cause of aging in all living things is oxygen the cream also suppresses skin damaging free radicals which degrade the quality of the skin and make it less flexible thus encouraging formation of wrinkles. These antioxidant agents are extracted from natural sources such as grape seeds, vitamin C and vitamin E sources.

Lastly, the cream contains moisturiser which helps to keep the skin moist and shield against dehydration and is free from pollutants. The moisturiser reduces skin peeling due to dryness. In order to keep the skin moist, the cream uses natural moisturisers extracted from mallow, cucumber and Arnica Montana's flower.

Due to the above identified additives, Dermalogica Skin Smoothing Cream is highly recommended to individuals who have such problems such as premature skin aging and dry skin. Individuals are advised to apply the cream over wet face and throat with light strokes. Best results can be obtained if the cream is applied after using Dermalogica Multi-Active Toner. Besides this, the cream can be applied over or mixed together with a prescribed Dermalogica Concentrated Booster for additional results.

Now having looked at the product, comes the price. This product is well priced; currently a 100ml pack of the cream costs £43.50 in most retail and beauty salons, but for online shoppers there is a 23% discount on the cream like from dermalsense.com, which is selling them at £33.40. This means that you stand to save a whopping £10.10 and besides that, the site arranges and caters for the delivery costs of the pack to any doorstep within United Kingdom, thus the product reaches you free of charge. So hurry, get your pack and improve your skin health today.
