

Article Side

When I saw mail then there was an invitation of my friend by Williamparker

Article published on August 24th 2012 | Education

In this article, I wanted to say that once I was just going to sleep. I keep my personal computer switched on all the time. So, then as I went to sleep then suddenly, I got a mail. This mail was like something which makes me happy.

When I saw mail then there was an invitation of my friend at some hall. Actually, he wanted to celebrate his happiness with us all. I immediately sent the message to him that I would come. After then he asked me to come at home on the same night. I asked him that what is actually the matter, but he did not say anything. I called him and then I again said that to please tell me that what is the matter and why are you calling me, this is too much night and it will not be safe to go, because I had no car at that time. He did not tell me and he was requesting me again and again but whenever I asked the issue for calling then just ignores this and did not tell.

I disconnected the call and then I sat on the bed and then I was thinking that whether I should go or not. I then sent a text message to him that, if it will be a joke then I will not mercy you. And, then I took out my bicycle and then I went outside. I got little bit disturb when he called me and the whole way I was disturb because lots of imagination in my mind was coming. Finally, I reached to his home and then I rang the door bell and then my friend came outside. He said to me that hey you got serious, I was just joking and checking you out that whether you will come to help or not. I was shocked to listen this and then I just wanted to slap him. I told to him in so much aggressive manner that go to hell you and yours invitation. Is this like a joke, you should know that which type of joke you should do and which type of not. My friend was standing quietly and after few seconds shut up and happy birthday to you and he just hugged me. I got a shock again because all this happened so, immediately and this was really shocking. After then he said that the invitation which you received was actually fake. Today is your birthday and we just wanted to celebrate your birthday in new style, thatâ€™s why we did all this. In his home there were lots of friends of mine. I went inside and then I cut the cake.

As I moved inside the room, I saw a little boy was typing writing a college essay. I told him to consult with original essay writing service because this is the best amongst all the essay writing services. Anyway, this was my best birthday celebrated ever. This is truly said that friends are the greatest thing in this world.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/when-i-saw-mail-then-there-was-an-invitation-of-my-friend.htm> - Article Side

Williamparker - About Author:

Are you facing some difficulty in a writing a college essay? If yes then you can get contact famous a essay writing services providers who work under the name of originalessaywriting.com

Article Keywords:

Essay Writing Services, Writing a College Essay

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!