Nokia has come up with new app called Nokia City Lens for their Lumia handsets. With City Lens very easily you may see the close locations and layers them in a trendy improved realism view. This great app is not out yet but very soon you may be able to download in beta form. It is very easy to use that is on the screen you would observe all the categories of the locations that you can inspect like famous buildings, restaurants, hotels and shops. Moreover if you don't know where to go then also you may choose the nearby locations to see everything.

Moving further strike the class of the close by locales that you wish to see and layered them on your Lumia camera vision. Slant the smart phone downwards a little bit then switch the app onto map view. After that it would show the locations in your neighborhood over a normal map. Then holding the smart phone in portrait manner which implies you the destinations in a list vision along with a small arrow just next to each other that shows you the pathway its in.

The sloping quality is practical or handy but you might locate yourself a little bit confused if you lower down your smart phone somewhat to look closely over the top of it or speak to someone with you for finding out the vision that has switched moreover is an noticeable complaint. It had been found that the City Lens is US centric but it seems that it is performing a good job in locating the restaurants and buildings of this modest capital. The people are still waiting for the arrival of the final version which would keep them occupied when out.

At present Nokia is showing its great interest in developing variety of innovative apps that makes their Lumia Smart phones distinguish from its rival companies such as Window Phone gadgets. The Nokia City Lens app joins Nokia apps such as Nokia music and Nokia Drive. There is no more information from the company regarding the launch of City Lens and whenever it would be launched in the market it is expected that this app would be free of cost.
