In our democratic world, we are enjoying many favorable laws which not only giving us freedom to think but also to act. Copyright is also one well-known law which is providing us a freedom to write and that writing is totally secured against duplicity. It can be defined as an intellectual property law protecting innovated creations of author like books, movies, music, artistic work, etc. you know friends!! Copyright is collection of rights involving rights of reproduction, adaptation, transformation, communication to the public etc. so to enjoy all these rights, you should apply for copyright registration.

The prime objective of copyright registration in UK is to keep the records of registered content. Registrant's full name, address, original content with date is required in such registrations. After registration you can show all original documents if someone throw a legal claim for duplication with full support of government. This service is usually offered by copyright officers appointed to handle such cases. Their only intention is to encourage people to develop more and innovative work without any doubt and worries.

The process for applying copyright registration starts from visiting to intellectual property officer and ask them for the form of registration. After filling that form with attaching all essential documents with it including your identity proof, home address, contact number, E-mail etc they will check the your original content and check for duplicity, if they find it original you will get your registered assurance in months.

Let's assume that you have made any mistake in entering your detail during copyright registration or any deletion or any fault occur then don't worry as you can apply again by writing a request to the registrar. Registrar after your request, arrange a meeting again and correct all the errors or mistakes you have done earlier.

But instead of going to the court try new concepts of internet. These days thousands of websites are available on internet which assists you in handling copyright registration cases. You can even hire attorney who knowing your needs and requirements represent your case effectively in court.

There are several benefits which would get after copyright registration some of them are:

- Authentic proof.

- Differentiate from other tasks.

- Store Public record

- Freedom to live in protective atmosphere.

These above point can assure you that copyright registration is very important to adopt these days to protect your original task against infringement.
