Indian has a reputation in bringing together many countries when they are in pursuit of having all the forms of tourism under one roof. Andaman and Nicobar Islands are also proving their worth on that regard for India. People interested in serenity of beaches and water activities like scuba diving find their heaven in these islands. These characteristics also inspire couples to take Andaman honeymoon package. People who are always interested in history part of a place can go to Port Blair that still has reminiscent of the past in the form of Cellular Jail notorious for torturing freedom fighters of Indian Freedom Struggle along with other buildings of colonial era. Spending Andaman holidays is a totally different experience to those who have been to other parts of India especially planes and mountains.

Andaman could be reached by Sea and Air, whatever mode of transportation you choose to travel to these places, make sure you have all the necessary documents with you providing entry in the islands. Safety issues are also there when you are in these islands because not many years back tsunami has affected this group of islands adversely. Keep yourself well informed about the weather before you take Andaman honeymoon package or something like that. If your timings are appropriate, Andaman holidays would prove to be exceptional with respect to your prior experience of India tours.

North Bay, Muta Terra Beach and Havelock Island are quite popular for snorkeling. One can also take route of Little Andaman for Surfing. Tsunami had impacted the tourism of this particular place a lot but things had got better if not as it was before it. Glass bottom boats at Jolly Buoy Island, at the Mahatma Gandhi Marine National Park are another way to enjoy beautiful view of coral reefs. Andaman honeymoon package could include each of these things. Stay informed and then pick up the most suitable of such travel packages. Andaman holidays are not exaggerated when happy and satisfied tourists return from here. Excellent seafood makes for the rest of the tour.

Andaman holidays are chosen also for the peaceful environment they have, to provide to travelers as the tourism is still in early stages and the islands are not heavily crowded. Choose to go any island in Andaman and remain assured that you have a lot of water fun and good seafood waiting for you. Enjoy togetherness with your spouse with an Andaman honeymoon package and you would not regret it ever.
