

Article Side

Heading to Oxford and need an Oxford revision course? by Richard Riddell

Article published on December 12th 2011 | Education

We offer the best success rate for A Level and IB exams in England.

If you are planning to study at Oxford, you are most likely interested in taking an Oxford Revision Course. While there are many providers of revision courses near Oxford, we firmly believe that our approach, our teachers and our philosophy of study is the most optimal. Our courses are facilitated by Chief and Principal Examiners and our most highly skilled teachers and our courses are designed using the principles of performance psychology that have been successful with athletes, as well as our own students. Join us on one of our courses and you will come away amazed at your ability to interpret the exam questions. Join us and we will support you on your journey.

Our nearest centre of study for revision courses near Oxford are at Albion College in London; but, our signatory achievement of excellence is worth the journey. Regardless of the A Level revision course you choose, you will discover that our three phased approach offers you the best method of achieving your personal success goals. Class sizes are limited to a maximum of 10 students and you will receive guidance from enthusiastic teachers.

Exam Confidence A Level revision in Oxford

On enrolling in one of our A Level revision courses near Oxford, you will be studying at Albion College, Russell Square in London. You will study in a positive environment energised by students and staff that thrive on learning and teaching. You will have time to and opportunity to review previous exam questions and study the structure of the questions under the guidance of Chief or Principal Examiners who are charged with writing the questions. These examiners will offer their insights on the techniques of understanding the questions so that you might focus your attention on the most important elements that lead to the highest quality answers. You will also complete mock exams at any one of our revision course centres, so why not choose us instead of venturing to any of the Oxford revision courses.

Exam Confidence revision courses near London

We offer you the choice of many revision courses near London that are being run in December 2011 and accommodation is available for our students. Students are able to stay at the London School of Economics, usually used by their students. Breakfast is also included in the price of your stay. LSE is just around the corner from Albion College, Russell Square where our workshops are held. All of the teachers we employ are CRB checked and all are accustomed to assisting in advising students about a variety of issues and problems that may arise.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/heading-to-oxford-and-need-an-oxford-revision-course.htm> - Article Side

Richard Riddell - About Author:

Examconfidence.co.uk offers Exam Revision Courses in all subjects like, a A Level revision in Oxford, revision courses in Oxford, a Oxford revision courses, revision courses near London, Cambridge revision courses, revision courses near Oxford with guaranteed results with excellence. Enroll for your revision course today!

Article Keywords:

oxford revision courses, a level revision in oxford, revision courses in oxford, revision courses near oxford, revision courses near london, cambridge revision courses, cambridge revision course

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!