If you love the action sports with a bit of fun element in it then paintball can be a perfect option. In this, game individuals play against each other by tagging them and throwing paintballs at them to eliminate them. This can also be played between teams in a war form with each team having separate color of paintball. It is made capsules with water soluble dye and gelatin and needs to be thrown with the use of paintball marker. It is not just a game played between friends but is also used in military training for on field target practicing.

The game of paintball can be played both indoor and outdoor. The backyard of your home or a field can be a perfect destination for the game. Any number of people can play this game and it can have different aims too. The game target can be to find something hidden or the winner can be decided when the last person remains there to mark. This is a non harmful game and can be enjoyed by children and grown ups together. As the balls contain mineral solution which are non toxic and can be washed with water they are completely safe for kids.

Paintball is a famous game and it is played in tournaments or even worldwide leagues. There are professional players and teams which play this game regularly and people can enjoy this game. While it is about a tournament then the requirement of paintballs is huge as one ball can be used only once. There are companies who sell paintball and there are some who will sell bulk paintballs. The main benefit of buying paintball in bulk is that they are cheap and you can have a good stock of them whenever you need them in excess.
