Article published on July 5th 2012 | Home Improvement

Alliance Plastic is a company that manufactures and distributes finishing and protection components for different kinds of applications and industries. This company has an operation that has a huge base in Canada, the United States, Brazil and Mexico. Its major bases may be only these select countries but the company is known all over the world. The distribution of the products of Alliance Plastic reaches other parts of the world specifically in Asia and Europe.

The company of Alliance Plastic was put together in 1968. The company has grown significantly through the years and at present it now has over 200 people under its employment on its South and North America operations. The headquarters of Alliance Plastic is based in Erie, Pennsylvania. Their main manufacturing site is also based on the same Pennsylvania location. The company has invested hugely on the improvement of their production machinery, information technology, tooling as well as the facilities in their various warehouses. They have also made significant improvements in their customer service to ensure the satisfaction of their clients. In recent years, they have added more manufacturing operations into the distribution operations in San Paulo, Brazil. These additional improvements were implemented in 2006. The distribution operation in San Paulo is the base of the operations in Brazil.

Alliance Plastic is known for having a very extensive product line. That may be so but they still continue to come up with ways to create more new products and improve the already existing products. At present, the company has over 8,000 products in the market and this extensive product line has contributed greatly to the success of the company. All of the products on their extensive catalogue are available for dispatch on the same day of the placement of your order. This has made it very convenient for the clients of the company.

The company aims to provide excellent service through their extensive product line and exceptional customer service. The company has several regional locations with local offices and stock warehouses to provide the best service to their clients in different locations. The company can cater to clients that are in need of products in bulk or those that need specialized products. They are also proud of the fact that they can provide prompt service and delivery for clients who are in a rush. They can even provide immediate delivery to clients who order products in smaller quantities. The company does have a lower requirement for the minimum number of orders.
