Jamie Hepp- the Founder of Team TAG Group by James

Article published on February 25th 2012 | Marketing

Whenever we come across a company that has been doing exceptionally well in the markets, the first point of concern is to try and look for the owner or the motivator of the organization as it is that person who had made the difference in the end and is ought to be credited for making the venture a huge success. Team TAG is nowadays one of the leading names specialized in Customer acquisition & retention, operating in different corners of the US.

It started as a small agency in the late 90s but within a period of a decade and a half touched sky limits and holds the rare credit of having already worked with quite a number of leading Fortune 500 countries around the world. The credit for the immense success and fame the company has achieved in this short tenure goes to the owner and company president Jamie Hepp whose innovative skills coupled with the best resources has done wonders to the business.

Jamie Hepp was born and educated in Canada. After completion of his education, he started his career in marketing and sales with a small firm in Vancouver in 1994. After working for four years, Hepp finally decided to open a firm of his own to serve the clients in an even better manner and with this purpose, Team TAG saw its genesis in 1998. What transpired next is history and today the company stands as one of the best in terms of services, products and offerings.

He is one of such businesspersons who tries to understand the needs and aspirations of the clients and believes in offering customized services to fulfill the requirements of the clients in a best possible fashion and this very motto has stood as an X-factor that has made the difference.
