Gone are the days when it was hard to find audio CDs and DVDs of classical music. With the advancement of technology and the popularity of internet shopping, music lovers now can shop for music recordings of classical composers. These recordings are available at online stores in DVD as well as audio CD format. While most music retail outlets cater to today's generation that is high on rock and rap music, online stores are meeting the demands of music connoisseurs who love jazz and opera compositions.

Buy Anna Netrebko DVDs and CDs Online:

Anna Netrebko is a Russian operatic soprano who made her operatic stage debut at the Mariinsky under the guidance of her vocal mentor Valery Gergiev. Her prominent roles with the Kirov Opera include Amina in La sonnambula, Rosina in Il Barbiere di Siviglia, Pamina in Die Zauberflöte and Lucia in Lucia di Lammermoor. She went on to perform in several successful operas and was also acclaimed for her interpretation of several Russian operatic roles. She won many awards for her outstanding performances and in the year 2007, she was placed on the Time magazine's time 100 list. She was also recognised as a genuine superstar for the 21st century by Musical America and was later named "Musician of the Year" in 2008.

Famous Classical Music Composers:

Dieterich Buxtehude was a German-Danish composer and organist. His organ recitals are frequently performed in church services even to this day. He is famous for composing wide variety of vocal and instrumental idioms. It is believed that most of his compositions were lost. However, you can find a fine collection of Dieterich Buxtehude at online stores.

George Frederic Handel was a German-British composer who was very famous for his organ concertos, oratorios, operas and anthems. He was famous as a vocal bravura of the soloists rather than as a musician. In about thirty years he composed nearly forty operas that contain remarkable human characterization. He also has to his credit 29 oratorios, 16 organ concerti, over 120 cantatas, duets and trios and several arias, chamber music, odes and serenatas.
