Before you go for replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston, you need to know whether you need it or not. Sometimes we get worked up even with the smallest of chips on the windshield or auto glass and sometimes we completely ignore them. Both are not needed because a professional auto glass technician will be able to tell you whether you need repair or replacement of your auto glass or windshield.

When you deal with a professional auto glass technician, they will give you three scenarios that will help you decide whether you need repair or replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston.

The first situation is "the size of the crack or chip is lower than the length of a dollar bill

In such a situation, if the chip or crack has not reached the edge of the auto glass or windshield frame, repair is good enough and you don't need any replacement.

The second situation is "the size of the crack or chip is lower than the length of a dollar bill

In such a situation, if the chip or crack has reached the edge of the auto glass or windshield frame, replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston is a must.

The third situation is "the size of the crack or chip is more than the length of a dollar bill

In such a situation, replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston is a must.

This is information that you can find online and you don't even need a professional auto glass technician to tell you. But when you are away on a vacation and need to deal with an unknown auto glass technician, this bit of information comes handy.

The worst people in this trade are the glass claim harvesters. They will pretend that they are repairing the chip or crack on your car's auto glass or windshield and will put enough pressure that the only option left will be replacement. But when you always deal with a professional auto glass technician, they will ensure that they do the replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston only when it is required.

When replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston has to be done, you should always insist on dealer or OEM auto glass or windshield. There is another glass available in the market and some technicians use that too. It is called aftermarket glass and it is unlicensed glass. This means that your car manufacturer doesn't recommend it. When you deal with a professional auto glass technician, they will never install aftermarket glass.

To find a professional auto glass technician for replacement of auto glass Houston or windshield replacement Houston, use websites that maintain a database of these professionals. When you enter your zip code in the space provided they list all the professional auto glass technicians close to you. Get quotes from them and finalize one of them to install your car's auto glass or windshield. You will not need to worry about the quality of work.
