Have you noticed that men have started wearing jewelry? Few back, men do not feel comfortable in wearing jewelry and it was assumed that jewelries like rings and bracelets were only for females to match with their apparels. But now days, men like to wear the jewelry as well according to match their apparel. Men usually do not like to wear gold and it is not their first choice, where as metal is also not in such demand in men wears, but while talking about platinum and silver, it has been observed that men use to like platinum and silver for their jewelry wear with their favorite stone including birth & lucky stone.

According to research men likes to wear costly stones which include Diamond, this is not commonly worn stone but due to investment and cost value and its appearance a lot men are passionate to worn diamond. Moreover it now becoming a trend that women or female gift the diamond jewelry to their special or husband on wedding and birthday occasions. Diamonds also gets the support and endorse of famous celebrities to customize the jewelry.

There is a small range of jewelry for men including rings, bracelets & chain while women have a lot of more things including ear rings, foot rings, pendant, necklace and clips. And the most common jewelry worn by men in diamond is bracelets. Men bracelets are much different from women collections as you can't find the flowers and carvings in the men's bracelets and the design are much different and bold then women's collection. Teenagers and young men are mostly like to wear these diamond bracelets where the 30 above aged men like to wear the ring with their favorite stone, whereas the rings are also much different from women's collection as in men's ring you can't find large stones and with large width, men use to wear small width rings in addition to small size of stone, however the lower part of the ring is thicker to maintain the good grip on the finger and prevent slipping.

As gold is not much preferred for color combination with diamond and used with ruby and emeralds, Platinum is used the most with diamonds for good color combination and to produce incredible outlook. It is not necessary that diamonds suits every men therefore men also uses stones which is suggested to chose by astrologer according the suitability of your date of birth and age and some other necessary consideration. This also improves your luck and help to protect you from failures and disasters.

Diamond is much expensive and there are a lot of qualities lies under this category.
