

Article Side

Why School Management Systems in India have not been widely accepted by schools? by AliceJohnson

Article published on June 14th 2012 | Software

KonnectSmart is one such integrated end-to-end solution. An online school management software that is conceptualized to bring out the best of the dual roles of a school. A fluid school automation software solution, KonnectSmart adds pace to every task of the school, ranging from entrance procedures to school, admission, results, to adding accelerating the level of perfection in day-to-day administration, fee management, attendance management, time tables and result sheets. It can be easily adopted by any school, regardless of the education board they follow.

KonnectSmart is diverse in its offerings. This online school management software brings together teachers, students, parents and the administration to one common platform, defining and simplifying their individual roles better. For the teachers, this school management software has result generation system which is equipped with the latest CCE guidelines of CBSE, also compatible with result format of other boards. When it comes to students, updating of the list of assignments is done through the school automation software, along with an online diary that keeps a record of the completed and pending tasks, an academic calendar for the students to plan and chalk out their course more effectively and a notice board for everyday information, sudden changes and reminders for the activities across the automation software. Ever heard of a school automation software make the job of a parent simpler? Well, KonnectSmart does just that. Since this school management software allows for the inclusion of parents to come on board as well, using it, they can monitor their child's activities, performances, the upcoming academic schedule and work together to enable their child to give his/her best performance. The school management software allows for a parent to keep track of all this and participate in their child's learning and academic activities from wherever they want and whenever they want.

The school management system in India needs not only effective ideas but equally effective consistency in ensuring it runs smoothly. A school's administrative set-up is no different. KonnectSmart is one such school management software that collates all the primary functions of a school's administrative duties to one common platform for everyone to be part of. Beginning from admission management, online attendance system, fee management system and a website designer tool, it makes it easier for everyone on board – students, teachers, parents and the administrative team to interact with the school authorities, get answers to their queries directly from the concerned personnel, keep track of results, fee announcements, any other miscellaneous updates, save ample amounts of time by checking out the admission charts online instead of making rushed trips to school each time and customize the data online with a website designer tool.

Additionally, it connects them all through school's very personal messaging system. To send the right information to the right person, this school management software from KonnectSmart allots individual log in accounts to parents, teachers, students and the administrative team from the school, alongside generating discussion forums from time to time for all to come on board together.

School Management System in India have not been adopted by schools because of their inefficiency, lack of any real utility and because they are expensive. In addition to this, the fact that there is no good company that is paying any serious attention towards education management, only aggravates the severity of the problem. Digitech's KonnectSmart team is committed towards providing educational institutes with amazing utility and benefits.

The beauty of KonnectSmart is that administration can view activities of teachers, students and parents from the school's log in account. Parents can track the progress of their child, see results and can communicate directly with the teachers through parents's™ log in accounts. Similarly, teachers can write diaries, notices, generate results for students and parents from teachers's™ log in accounts and can create/distribute their assignments online. Students can view notice board, school activities, timetables, school calendar, results online and can receive continuous career guidance through their student log in account. All in all, KonnectSmart school management software is engineered to create harmonious combination of pace and sustainability for continuous progress. It is time to KonnectSmart with your school!

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/software-articles/why-school-management-systems-in-india-have-not-been-widely-accepted-by-schools.htm> - Article Side

AliceJohnson - About Author:

KonnectSmart is a school automation software a first of its kind in our country to assimilate the diverse roles of parents, teachers, students and the school onto one platform and enable better functioning and growth for all those involved.

Article Keywords:

online school management software school management system in india school erp software erp for school

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!