

Article published on June 13th 2012 | Travel

Want to discover Paris from the Eiffel Tower, gaze at the unique mixture of old and contemporary in London, or smell the aromas of freshly ground espresso beans from a dainty cup from one of Vienna's historic cafés? Why not take a tour? By means of a well-tailored tour, prepare to experience what these places offer, and they're going to be more than simply an aspiration.

Rome. Visit the Colosseum—sometimes spelled as Coliseum—and enjoy the cheers, boos, and of the ancient Romans while they enjoyed watching gladiators fight for their lives. Discover Vatican City and stroll the trails Robert Langdon traveled in the novel Angels and Demons. Get a ticket to witness one of the shows taking place at the Parco della Musica, which is amongst the biggest musical settings across the world. Don't forget to relish the way of life of The Eternal City at very best.

Paris. From Italy, proceed north west till you reach Paris, the City of Love and Lights. Visit the Musée du Louvre, one of the biggest and most toured galleries and museums in the world. Take your special someone with you, appreciate the sights and music of Paris, and take a rest in one of those well-liked French cafés.

Barcelona. This is only next to Madrid as the largest urban center in Spain. See the Orquestra Simfònica de Barcelona i Nacional de Catalunya, plainly referred to as the OBC, perform for your enjoyment. Enjoy the eclectic ambiance of the city once it gets dark. Get back in time with hundred-year old complexes including the Santa Maria del Pi, Santa Maria del Mar, and also the Palau Reial Major.

London. English fantasy writer Neil Gaiman writes in Neverwhere, "there are little pockets of old time in London, where things and places stay the same, like bubble in amber." Undoubtedly, St. Stephen's Tower—a.k.a. Big Ben—still shows time amid the modern buildings enveloping it. If you ever dare, you can check out the Tower of London or Hampton Court Palace, both traditional travel spots believed to have plenty enough of ghostly residents. Just don't wander too very far from your circle and the guides that give cheap tours of Europe.

Berlin. If ever you're a city resident, you won't feel too misplaced in the main city of Germany, due guided tours of Europe. Just like Barcelona, you'll have a whole lot of big fun here when moonlight sets out to light up the dark nooks of the city. Experience a chill crawl moving up your spine when you explore the remains of the Berlin Wall, a fairly famous landmark in Germany and in the whole Europe.

All these cities are merely the peak of the iceberg of the sites to check out in Europe. To learn more about organizing for guided tours of Europe, check out goeurope.about.com/od/europeantripplanning/bb/six_months.htm.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/have-a-european-getaway-with-guided-travels.htm> - Article Side

Odessa Kammel - About Author:

For more details, search a cheap tours of Europe and a guided tours of Europe in Google for related information.

Article Keywords:

cheap tours of europe, guided tours of Europe

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!