From the time immemorial, people lived in their dwellings and roamed around the world to seek meanings they never knew. People sought knowledge and they found bits and pieces from the areas they traveled and they analyzed the data in their mind to see the meaning in something that never made sense earlier. This knowledge was used well by Human beings to make things that were work of amazement for others and even to creator, sometimes. Among them, there are Wonders of World that have caught people who have never seen them but always wanted to do so. With differences in the ways of their occurrences, 7 Wonders of the World are present as the collection of human ambitions and inspirations.

Human being is the only animal in the world that can use his intellect to earn knowledge of the world, time and space around him. He has the ability to learn from nature itself and return the favor by creating things. These things are result of teamwork of people who want to support the cause of creation for one reason or another. There are Wonders of World that change according to some rules also made by human to bring to attention the art pieces that are not just pieces but master pieces that make you wonder every time you see. New Seven Wonders are selected after a particular time but always amaze people.
