The south-west section of peninsular India abounds the beautiful city called Kochi in the state of Kerala. It is probably the capital of Kerala and possesses one of the most important sea ports of India. It is bordered by the Arabian Sea on the west and Western Ghats on the east. Its closeness to the sea as well as the mountains accounts for the most pleasant equatorial climate throughout the year.

Bengaluru, formerly known as Bangalore, is the capital city of the state of Karnataka. It is one of the fastest developing cities of India because of the emergence and development of the IT sector. It is more commonly known as the Garden city of India. The climate of Bangalore is very comfortable during all the months in a year. Most of the largest companies of the world and India have a branch office in the city of Bangalore. The city boasts of its rich cultural heritage, which is preserved through generations. The city is well connected to the other places of India and abroad through rail services as well as bus routes. Air services are always quickly available and are also quite cheap. Both national and international flights fly frequently from the airport.

There are many airline agencies that run flights from the city of Kochi to Bangalore. If you wish to obtain more information concerning the flights and tariffs, you can glance through the online portals and websites.
